JULY/2021

Making Waves

Welcome Message by Professor Dr Ian Pashby Group President

Welcome to the first edition of Making Waves, the newsletter of Peninsula College Georgetown. The Ship Campus is ready and waiting to welcome back both staff and students just as soon as the Ministry of Higher Education allows. Unfortunately, the global Covid pandemic has disrupted many aspects of life, including education. Students have had to adapt to learning online at home, academic staff have had to adapt to teaching via platforms that were new to them and administrative staff have had to carry out their tasks without the normal interactions which allows smooth running. Most of 2020, and 2021 so far, have been very stressful for all the Peninsula family. However, I am very impressed with, and very proud of, the way staff and students have approached this challenge. I very much look forward being in The Ship along with all our students and staff. In the meantime, take pride in the way you have dealt with this terrible situation and stay safe!

Suicide Awareness Workshop

On 31 March, an online workshop was conducted by Ms Yogeswary on the topic of Suicide Awareness. The hour long workshop was primarily for our students to gain an understanding on the importance of mental health especially during this Covid-19 pandemic. The response from the students were positive and they are very much looking forward to a physical workshop once possible.

PYDC Essential Skills Programme

Penang Youth Development Centre (PYDC) in collaboration with Peninsula College conducted an online Essential Skills Programme.

This programme was not only for the students of Peninsula College, it was also opened to all Malaysians. The objective of this programme was focused on strengthening personal competencies.

There were four (4) different consultants throughout the workshop and each individual consultant spoke about different aspects of competencies (Social Skills, Crisis Leadership, Managing Transition Effectively, Critical Thinking & Effective Problem Solving).

The programme was well received by all who attended.

Creative Web Design

Grace Tok
Computer Science lecturer from Peninsula College

Just before we went into FMCO, a physical Creative Web Design programme was conducted by Ms Grace at our one and only Pentagon Computer Lab, The Ship Campus. The workshop was conducted for free for SPM school leavers and it was a one day programme. This was the first workshop to be conducted in our fully equipped Pentagon Lab. During this one day programme, students were taught how to create their own website. It was an interesting session for all those who attended. Besides having a Web Design programme, an Animated Presentation was also conducted by Ms Grace. In this workshop, students were taught on how to create animation.

Business & Travel Workshop

On 4 June, an online Business & Travel Workshop was conducted. It was a fun and interactive workshop with many student participants. Throughout the workshop, there were interesting activities lined up, as well as a competition on a Travel and Tourism Itinerary Presentation. Prizes were even given to the winners for the competition. The top 3 winners won Starbucks Card worth RM 20 and a RM 500 registration fee waiver together with scholarship / special promotion entitlement.

The objective of this workshop was to give the students a better insight on the different courses offered in the school of Business and Accountancy.

Certificate/Diploma Online Induction Day June 2021

During this FMCO period, our recent Induction Day was done virtually. This virtual induction was very insightful and gave all the students better clarity on their coming days with Peninsula College.

The induction started off with a welcoming speech by our Group President, Prof. Dr Ian Pashby. In his speech, Prof Dr. Ian mentioned studying with Peninsula College will equip students not only with knowledge but also with soft skills and prepare them towards the job they've aimed for after their graduation. Besides Prof Dr. Ian, our Chief Executive, Ts Tung Chee Kuan took over the induction by explaining to the students on the current industries and the employment sector of the country. This was a real clear explanation for the students to understand the real world and working life upon their graduation. In his speech, he spoke about government policies, Penang skills workforce and Transformation programmes. Mr Tung also mentioned on the plan put in place by Peninsula College to ensure that all our graduates are industry focus. The induction session lasted until 3pm. Students that have further questions or enquiries are encouraged to get in touch with the student services department.
